

FELI NUT BUTTER GRINDER

Dear Customer,

Thanks you for using our nut butter machine. After grinding a certain period of time you might find the paste may not as fine as usual, or less oily and felt the front cover become warm up unusual during the process of grinding, to maintain the quality and efficiency of grinding process, we recommended you to make an easy judgment and disc detection.

SIMPLY CHECK THE GRINDING DISC

Use visual inspection or use finger to touch the disc gear, if the gear tip gets wear and become smooth (loss the sharp), please replace a set of disc.

Grinding Disc Wear Out

DISC REPLACEMENT INSTRUCTION

Use a cross screwdriver and equipped hex wrench to replace the disc.

316 STAINLESS STEEL GRINDING DISC

316 STAINLESS STEEL GRINDING DISC

Features:

To enhance a grinding disc life expectancy and efficiency, wearable, acid and alkali-resistance, preservative and the super fineness paste. The hardness is about 4 times of the Copper Alloy disc.

GRINDING GUIDELINE:

1. Nuts, sesame seeds (tahini) ...etc., a well roasted will get the most oily, rich, qualities, tasty and smooth butter, as well as the great mobility, low temperature to ensure the disc will not wear out easily.
2. If the nuts/seeds did not roasted well, the less oil and poor mobility causes tasteless and the high temperature of the grind-disc shorten its service life.
3. For some nuts/seeds with less oil contents for example pumpkin seeds, almonds, sunflower should not be grinded over 30 minutes continuously or should mix with others oily nuts to extend disc service life.
4. For grinding black sesame, please make sure it's good quality and well roasted or the butter will not flow out smoothly and the sesame seeds maybe emerge upwards from the funnel entrance.
